Truman's Low
Election Rap
Is ChallengedWashington, Dec. 12 — (AP) — President Truman's assertion that election campaigns in five states were "as low as I've ever seen" quickened investigations underway today by the senate campaign committee.Chairman Gillette (D-Iowa) told a reporter inquiries already have been made in Utah and North Carolina, two states mentioned by the president in a Dec. 7 letter made public last night by Rep. Herbert D-La.The Iowa senator said that Louisiana, Illinois and Indiana — the other states the President cited — are being covered in a nation-wide survey by the committee of campaign costs and circulation of "defameatory" literature.Herbert, a frequent critic of administration policies, had written the President suggesting that, Truman set aside a Sunday before Christmas and call on the people to pray in their churches for guidance of the nation in "the gettise-mane of our existence."Mr. Truman replied by sending Herbert a copy of his Thanksgiving proclamation, saying he believed "that effectively answers your suggestion."Then, in the latest of a series of letters evidently dashed off in a moment of annoyance, Mr. Truman added:"I am extremely sorry that the sentiments expressed in your letter were not thought of before November seventh, when the campaign in your state, Utah, North Carolina, Illinois and Indiana was carried on in a manner that was as low as I've ever seen and I've been in this game since 1906."Gillette said both issues, as well as summaries of campaign inquiries in Pennsylvania, Idaho, Iowa, Maryland, New York, South Carolina and Kentucky will be covered in the committee's final report to be filed in February.Other presidential letters which have broken into the news lately include three in which he offered to beat up a local music critic, said he wouldn't appoint John L.
Lewis dog catcher and described the marines as the navy's police force with a propaganda machine almost like Stalin's. He apologized for the last-named one.'Phone Lines Near Hartman
Are BrokenLittle Rock, Dec. 13 — (AP) — Southwestern Bell Telephone company has reported the breaking — apparently deliberate — of 48 long distance and 26 private lines near Hartman, Ark., Monday night.The company's information office said it appeared seven wires of a main lead had been twisted off.
No wire was taken, and it was believed if the culprits were thieves they may have been fightened away.It was possible to reroute the private wires, but linemen worked all night before restoring the long distance circuits.The phone company spokesman said the FBI and Johnson county authorities had been asked to investigate. The U. S. attorney's office at Fort Smith, however, said apparently no federal offense was involved.

ignore the nearby artillery which rocked the valley with thunderous blasts.They gave little attention to the ever present marine corsairs which circled overhead tirelessly or darted down, strafing and bombing the serene mountaintops.Then the marines climbed stiffly back into their vehicles. A few drivers, grinning weakly, tooted their horns in response to the peanut whistle shrilling from tiny locomotives which had hauled some marines south to safety from the valley railroad.One giant, bearded marine crawled into a jeep trailer and hand holding his bar browning automatic rifle, and the other stroking the whispering head of a pup almost concealed in the leatherneck's parka.Then the convoy rolled south into the dusk, the vehicles faintly lighted by a thin silver of moon and the evening star.YOU MAY HAVE the Allies could escape. The loading of troops and material began two days ago and is expected to continue some time.Among the 60,000 or more men moving at an orderly but fast pace across Hungnam's docks into the evacuation fleet were long unported doughboys of the U. S. Seventh division's 17th regimental combat team and South Korean army regiments.They were safe at last on the Hungnam coastal plain after retreating for nearly two weeks from extreme North Korea — as far up as the Yalu river boundary of Manchuria — under a security blackout.The destination of the force embarked on the sea of Japan was a top secret for security reasons.Field dispatches said thousands of Chinese were massing nearby for a final blow.Troops from five Allied divisions manned a stout defense line stretching for a 14-mile radius around Hungnam and the inland twin city of Hamhung.AP Correspondent Tom Stone, said the withdrawal was being carried on rapidly but quietly. It was pushed under protection of the long guns and carrier planes of the U. N. fleet.While transports swallowed a steady stream of men and equipment, warships cruised slowly off Hungnam.Corsairs, hellcats and panther jets circled overhead, alert for any sign that the Chinese Red air force might attempt an annihilating attack on the military coup launched in late November by Chinese ground forces.Warships shelled the coast and planes hit enemy positions, slow-Mr. Norman Christopher, 2344 Cumberland, Houston, Texas, works for the Water Contract Division of the city of Houston, and he says the housework isn't high enough nor the days long enough for him to praise HADACOL. He says since he has been taking HADACOL he feels mighty good.

He found his system was deficient in Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron.Mr. Christopher says: "After I got out of the Army I was underweight, nervous, couldn't sleep and had a terrible time getting food to agree with me. When I would wake up in the morning I would always be sick at my stomach — I could never eat breakfast — imagine having to wait until noon before eating the first meal of the day.
Even then just a few mouthfuls of food would fill me up. At night I couldn't sleep — I would just roll and toss all night. I felt miserable.
Nothing seemed to help me until I started taking HADACOL. After the third bottle of HADACOL I could tell a difference in my eating and sleeping habits. Now after a year's time of taking HADACOL I have gained almost 20 pounds. I sleep well — and the most wonderful thing — I can enjoy 3 full meals a day. There is no way I can describe the tremendous improvement in my appetite. I have started my wife taking HADACOL and she, too, is feeling wonderful.
If there is anybody who doubts my word about what I have said about HADACOL, they should have seen me before I started taking HADACOL.
I sincerely recommend HADACOL to all my friends and urge them to take HADACOL."

All Ages Can Be Helped

HADACOL is simply remarkable, the way it has helped folks of all ages — yes, thousands of men, women and children who have deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron. HADACOL is that wonderful new preparation — promising blessed relief for stomach distress, nervousness, if caused by an upset stomach, vague aches and pains, or a general run-down condition, when they are due to such deficiencies.Remember HADACOL is not a quick-acting product that only attacks the symptoms of the miseries but actually relieves the real cause of pains and aches due to such deficiencies. Yet, and continued use of HADACOL helps prevent the miseries from coming back.

Start Taking HADACOL Now

Don't go through life putting up with a stomach that is easily upset, that causes you gas pains, heartburn, sour risings after meals; a stomach that will not digest food properly; yes, if due to lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron, you can overcome these deficiencies which are causing these miseries by taking HADACOL which contains those precious vitamins.Start taking HADACOL right away, and if you do not get the results you expect your money will be immediately refunded. HADA-COL costs only $1.25 for a trial-size bottle. Large family or hospital size, $3.50.There is only one true and genuine HADACOL. If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order it

Military Aid to Chiang Gets Backing

Washington, Dec. 12 — (P). — A demand for military aid to Nationalist China was turned over to the 82nd congress today with the public backing of 34 senate Republicans and four Democrats.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif.), who failed to get the senate to earmark $38,000,000 in such aid yesterday, told a reporter he will try again when the new congress convenes next month.

At that time the Republicans will have 47 senators on their side of the aisle, instead of the 43 who now sit there. Taking this into account, Knowland said:

"If the administration hasn't completely lost touch with realities, it will realize that the new congress taking over in three weeks is likely to reverse the close vote of yesterday. I hope that before then something concrete will be done to encourage the Chinese Nationalists."

However, Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.) contended that any outright military aid to the Nationalists now might plunge this country into full-scale war with China.

Knowland tried to amend a bill providing food aid to Yugoslavia to require that an equal amount be spent on military assistance for the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa.

Knowland's amendment was knocked out on technical grounds and he then moved to send the Yugoslav bill back to the foreign relations committee. The idea was to get a senate vote in him amendment.

In what was generally regarded as a test on the issue of aiding Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists, 37 Democrats and five Republicans voted against Knowland's motion. Thirty-four Republicans and four Democrats supported it.

Significantly, perhaps, four of war.

Few GOPs May Temper Attacks

Washington, Dec. 11 — (P). — With President Truman's calling for unity, Republican leaders gave some signs today of tempering their attacks on administration foreign policies.

Senator Ives (R-N.Y.) called a senate Republican policy subcommittee together to redraft his resolution, calling for the removal of Secretary of State Acheson.

Despite apparent conviction of a majority of the 43 Republican senators that Acheson ought to step out, Ives hinted there may be no formal party call for such action. Instead, the Republicans might condemn policies they regard as bad and plug for new ones behind which both parties could unite.

President Truman was on record, in a Nov. 20 letter made public during the week-end, as pledging the Democrats to "seek no advantage in those fields that affect our national defense and our relations with other nations."

The President said he won't attend a Democratic rally and banquet in New York city tomorrow.

For all practical purposes, the vote made military aid to the Nationalists a Republican issue. Senators Aiken and Flanders of Vermont and Margaret Chase Smith of Maine said they voted against the motion because they felt it was ill-timed and ill-placed.

Knowland has been plugging for moves to arm the Chinese Nationalists sufficiently to permit them to give aid to anti-Red guerrillas in China. He has called also for a blockade of the Chinese coast in retaliation for Chinese Communist entrance in force into the Korean peninsula.

Little Rock Honors Its Old Folks

Little Rock, Dec. 12 — (P). — Little Rock held a party honoring its old folks yesterday.

The community council entertained more than 60 men and women between the ages of 65 and 92 for two hours.

Mrs. Sally Scott, 86, a sister of the late Senator Joe T. Robinson, received an orchid as the oldest woman present.

Chris Maloy, of North Little Rock, a retired plumber, who celebrated his 92nd birthday Tuesday, got a necktie and handkerchiefs as the oldest man present.

How ties constitute 5 per cent of the total ties made in the U. S. night. In a letter to Dwight D. Eisenhower, chairman, the President said that national unity is paramount because "there is no going to be any short-cut to preserving our freedom or securing the peace of the world through international cooperation of free and peaceful nations."

"Our action in the days ahead must reflect that unity and I am confident that all of you will do your utmost to see to it that a united American people overcome the obstacles and dangers which lie between us and our common goal of a just and lasting peace," Mr. Truman said.

Without reference to the President's letter, Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) told a reporter he thinks there is some hope that the legislative and executive branches soon will find themselves closer together on foreign affairs issues. Wiley is top Republican on the senate foreign relations committee, in the absence of Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), who is ill.

"We're having a period of sweat now but I think the fever will break and there will be more harmony in the future," he commented.

Fair Enough

By Westbrook Pegler
Copyright, 1950
By King Features Syndicate.

New York, Dec. 13 — I offer additional information concerning the mysterious society for the prevention of World War III, a propaganda machine dominated by Isidore Lipschutz, which for equally mysterious reasons was spared from inquiry by the Buchanan committee of congress when it was hounding pro-American propagandists last summer. Two of the principal victims of the committee refused to give up their records so that Lipschutz and his gang could see them. They were indicted for contempt of congress. If they ever come to trial, I will offer the defense much information concerning the activities of Lipschutz, the society, his anti-Nazi league, James H. Sheldon, who manages the league, and a collection of sneaks and snobs who have been employed by the league, including some criminal characters. A very sinister and un-American system of terrorism lies just beneath the surface here, but the Buchanan committee refused to take any notice of it.

I have interviewed three of the founders of the society who resigned in 1946 because they allege letters were being sent out to officials of foreign governments and to other persons which were written by Herbert Kriedman, an appointee of Lipschutz, in the society's office, without the knowledge of the board of directors or the advisory council. These three men are Lyle Evans Mahan, a lawyer, Major George Filing Eliot, the military commentator and writer, and Rudolph Fluegge, a naturalized ex-German who opposed pressionism.

When we came to the subject of Lipschutz's naturalization and the testimony given by Senator James E. Murray, of Montana, as a character witness, Mahan said: "He never asked me for a recommendation."

I asked: "Would you have given him one?"

"I would not," said Mr. Mahan.
Mahan and Fluegge said unauthorized letters were sent to Molotov and Marshal Zhukov and, they believed, also to Ilya Ehrenberg, the anti-American Soviet journalist, described as a personal friend of Lipschutz. They agreed also that there was one such letter to a member of the French delegation to the United Nations. Major Eliot said, he distinctly remembered one letter to Winston Churchill.
He thought there was one to Henry Morgenthau, whose famous "plan" seems to be the basis of the society's program.

These three men and Rex Stout, a propagandist more prominently identified with a similar outfit called friends of democracy, got together in Eliot's office at the New York Herald Tribune. Stout then was president of the society for the prevention of World War III, which, nowadays, has no president although the constitution provides for one. They called in Miss Anne Davies, who had been private secretary to Eliot and had become secretary of the society at Eliot's request. She succeeded Miss Miriam Stuart, who quit because Lipschutz was unbearably rude and because letters had been sent out under her name which she did not approve.

These men all said Miss Davies brought to their meeting carbon copies of unauthorized letters which had been sent out by the society.

Major Eliot said he insisted that Miss Davies be hired because Lipschutz was writing letters to the President on the society's let-terhead. I have a faint recollection of his writing a letter to Stalin.
He was always getting out letters in the name of the society. Miss Stuart had a blow-up and left an I said "all right, put in Miss Davies, someone I can rely on, someone on the level, and I will stick around."

There is no suggestion that he lacked confidence in Miss Stuart.
He just wanted to be sure that her successor would be equally trustworthy.

"Lipschutz was quite rude to Miss Stuart and to Miss Davies, too," Eliot continued. "He was just a rude guy. Miss Davies was instructed not to let any letters go out without the board's approval." She was put there for the specific purpose of stopping this damned letter-writing. I am convinced that the society is nothing but a reflection of Lipschutz's policies because he is putting up the money. I would not put any confidence in any employee that Lipschutz brought in.
He was terrific about not getting Kriedman out. He had great confidence in Kriedman.

"If the British government did anything in Germany that Lipschutz didn't like, he wouldn't hesitate to write a rough letter to Churchill. He would take letters heads of the Society to his own office and write letters all over the place."

Discussing the meeting in Eliot's office at which Miss Davies produced the carbon copies of unauthorized letters, Fluegge said:
"Eliot must have been suspicious.
I think he tipped Miss Davies to go through the files. She was very loyal to the major, and she found all copies of letters to Molotov and Shukov. These letters praised the Russian war effort and completely neglected the American war effort."

Mahan interrupted to say: "I do not know how they were signed, but some were signed by Miss Stuart over her protest. Stout was upset. He did most of the talking." He called in Kriedman.

He said that, after Kriedman left, Stout expressed a lack of confidence in Kriedman's political philosophy.

"Soon afterward," Mahan said,
"we had a directors' meeting. Stout resigned the presidency. I resigned as vice-president. Fluegge and Peter B. Olney resigned. They were members of the board. Stout later rejoined and went on the advisory committee."

Notwithstanding his unfavorable opinion of Kriedman, Stout has strung along with the society even though Lipschutz has refused to fire Kriedman. Moreover, although he recently said he would deplore the use of gum-shoe men by Lipschutz's anti-Nazi league to spy on individual citizens, John Roy Carlson, a sniveling sneak, who wrote an outrageous compilation of smears and lies called "under cover," declared that he did his dirty work while he was employed by Stout's friends of democracy.

Around the Arkansas Sports Loop

By CARL BELL

Little Rock, Dec. 13 — (P) — Every man or woman to his or her own opinion, but here are a few of ours on fading 1950:

Outstanding athlete — Norm
Price, the all-sport busybody at the University of Arkansas. This fall Norm went out for football for the first time in his college life. He spent two hours an afternoon practicing football, another hour working with the basketball team and used his spare time to do track work. He was a basket-ball regular last spring, won a regular defensive berth before the grid season ended and ranks as a top quartermiler and hurdler in track.

Outstanding team — Van Buren's state high school basketball champions.

Coach of the year — a draw between Howard Pearce who made a supposedly have-not Little Rock Junior college football team a winner, and Elmer Smith, who worked patiently with his Magnolia A. & M. Gridders through four straight losses to get them ready to win and tie one the rest of the way.

Hard Luck victims — Otis
Douglas and his Arkansas razor-backs. With one break a game they could have had a football record of eight wins and two losses instead of two wins and eight losses.

Biggest disappointment — The same Razorbacks.

Greatest Comeback — Another draw — this on between Magnolia A. & M. in football and the U. of A. in basketball — closing fast to tie Baylor for the southwest conference crown after a nightmarish start.

Biggest surprise — or upset, if you will, Oklahoma A. & M. spelling the debut of the much-publicized pro style football at the U. of A.

Oddest happening — appointment of John Floyd as basketball coach at Texas A. & M. after his Little Rock J. C. team had won only one game all season.

Most fitting triumph — Magnolia A. & M. beating Arkansas A. & M. in football to avenge the kidnapping of the Magnolia mascot, Optimaggie, the mule.

Most consistent — Little Rock Travelers at losing baseball games.

Most nerve — Douglas in firing grid stars Fred Williams and Bob Griffin for not attending classes.

Most confusing — Belated disclosure of the Arkansas Inter-collegiate conference's "secret

Commission Wants to Fire Racing Secretary

Little Rock, Dec. 13 — (P) — The Arkansas Racing commission has asked the discharge of Eugene Bury, racing secretary and handicapper at Oaklawn horse race track at Hot Springs.

The commission, at meeting yesterday, asked that John G. Cella of St. Louis, head of the Oaklawn track, replace Bury by the 1952 season.

A resolution said Bury was unco-operative. Also it declared he scheduled too many races with from five to seven horses, many of which had no chance of winning. The commission set Feb. 20, March 31 for the 1951 race meet at Oaklawn.

Birdie Tebbetts Purchased by Cleveland

St. Petersburg, Fla., Dec. 13 — (P) — The Cleveland Indians have purchased Catcher George Birdie Tebbetts from the Boston Red Sox. Cleveland General Manager Hank Greenberg announced early today. The 36-year old Tebbetts, who came up to the big leagues in 1936 with Detroit, batted .310 in 79 games last year.

Greenberg revealed that it was a straight cash deal with no players involved. He declined to announce the sum.

Tebbetts came to the Red Sox in 1947 in a trade for Catcher Hal Wagner. He caught in 128 games in 1948 and 122 in 1949. Each year he was voted on the American league all-star team. His 79 games last year was his lowest since 1939.

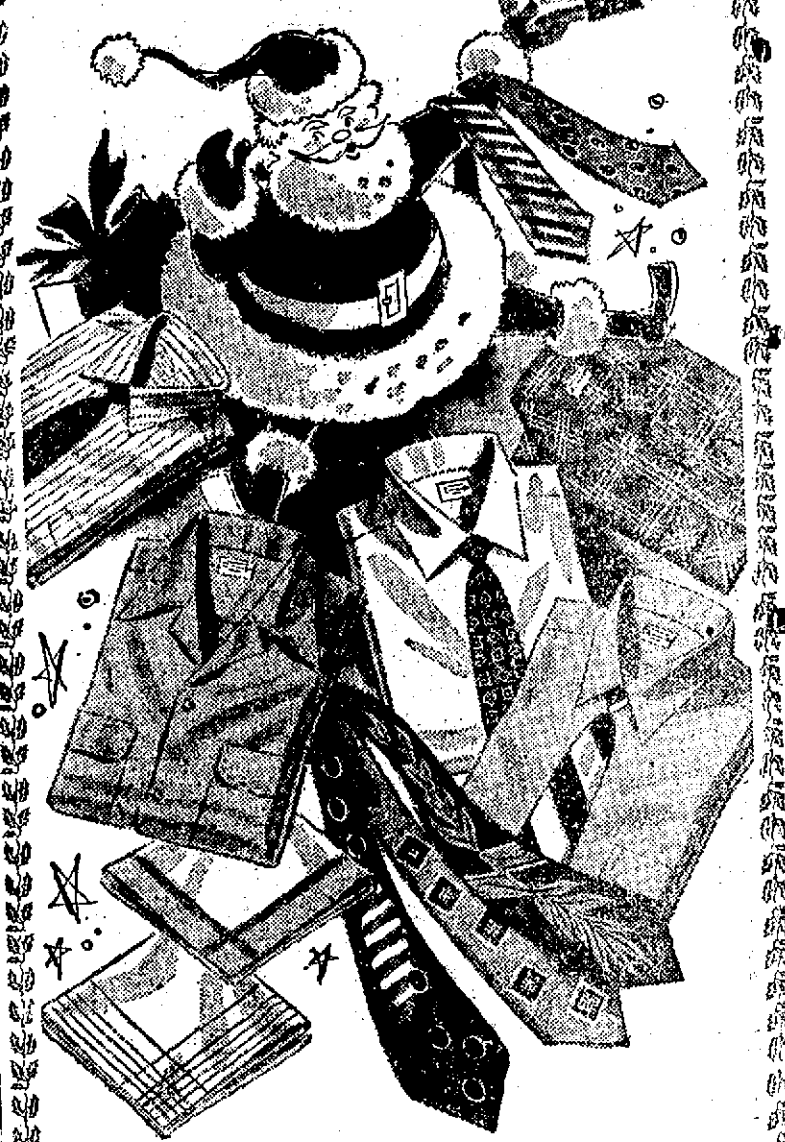

Tebbetts, a noisy little receiver known for his squaky voice, is regarded as one of the smartest backstops in the game.

ruling" that Arkansas State games would not count in the football championship race. The action by the college presidents gave the coaches — as well as fans and sports writers — their biggest surprise of the year.
